

artist: Hasegawa Tohaku (1539-March 19, 1610)

Painting: One of Tohaku's most famous works was the Pine Trees screen – there were 6 folded screens in the set. They were declared a national treasure of Japan and are argued to be the first paintings of their scale to depict only pine trees as subject matter. The "paintings" were actually black ink on paper.